The practice of running them hot and

The practice of running them hot and cold is getting to be a popular diversion with certain owners now operating at the fair grounds. This habit undoubtedly helps the owners to beat the books, while furnishing a delightful element of uncertainty for the general public.

An incident yesterday that was entitled to rank with the Rather Royal scandal and the Booger Red-Blagg flasco was the showing made by Gossiper II in the third race. This horse which was the class of the race, opened favorite at 7 to 5 and after the form players had had an opportunity to get their money down at the short price the odds advanced gradually to 4 to 1 at post time. This was convincing evidence that the wise money was being played elsewhere. Gossiper ran like a dog and was not a contender at any stage. Lee Harrison, also heavily played in this race, finished outside the money.

Side the money.

The public got another bad jolt in the fourth race, which was won by Billy Myer, a 12 to 1 shot. Lucy C., Liberto and Bucktnorn, all horses of class, finished in the ruck, while Glaucus, heavily played for a good third, was absolutely last. Aks Ar Ben ran his usual sturdy race and finished second.

Lena Merle in the second, Salvage in the fifth and Frank Lubbock in the sixth were the winning favorites, Nelson carried off the riding honors, winning with all three of his mounts.

PEANUT AND FITZGERALD

Manager Price of the St. Regis club said yesterday that he wished to announce that Peanut Sinciair and Tommy Fitzgerald had been forever barred from the St. Regis club for faking their bout on Monday night. Price says he found anmistakable evidence that the boys had got together to fake the bout and trim the public in the betting. Referee Pete Sallivan was compilmented on all sides for calling it no contest and declaring bets off, which prevented the carrying out of the scheme.

Manager Price of the St. Regis club said yesterday. The price paid is $14,000. Jerome B. and Esther Respess signed the bill.

The transfer marks the elimination of the Corrigan or Respess faction from local racing affairs. The failure of legulation in behalf of racing in the last general assembly was credited to the strife between the racing factions.

It was in the final of the three-quarters It was in the final of the three-quarters of a mile open, and the big crowd, shivering in the cold, hardy looked for such a ride under the conditions. Bardgett was pulling Walker to win, and Lawson was tucked away back in the bunch. Palmer had already tried to make a runaway of it by leading with a sneak on the field, but Bardgett pulled the bunch up. Two laps to go, Lawson was seen to swing high on the bank and duck for the tape. Before the field was hardly aware of what had happened Lawson was leading by three wheel lengths and opening the gap wider with every kick of the pedals. As he entered the stretch he sat up and rolled across the tape. Walker coming second several lengths behind.

Open Season for Tumbling.

The motor race saw a great fight between Samuelson and Wilcox. Both were putting up a great ride when the race was stopped on account of some accident to Munroe. When it was started again. Munroe did better, and the field was bunched for nearly three miles. Then Wilcox started out with Samuelson in pursuit and with two laps to go Wilcox was seen to lose his pace; Samuelson coming in and winning the race. Wilcox declared after the race that he thought the race had been finished, or he would have continued the lead and won.

In spite of the threatening and cold weather, a big crowd that completely packed the saucer was present. The feature of the meet was the fast time in every race, which is considered remarkable, considering the start of the season and cold weather.

"I am feeling so good that I know I am perfectly fit, so you see I reserved Tuesday for a rest." he said. "Tomorrow morning I will patch up any flaws there might be in my speed. I expect to knock O'Brien out in the first few rounds. It took me until the tail-end of ten rounds to catch him the last time and now it is only a question of crowding the same amount of fighting in the six rounds. My training up to this time has been with a view to accomplishing that. O'Brien is said to be the fastest six-round man in the ring and most of the experts, I see, say that there is no one who can whip him in six
